

06. MISSING CHILD

Policy statement

At ASK Kindergarten (ASK) children's safety is our highest priority, both on and off the premises. Every attempt is made, through the implementation of our outings procedure and our exit/entrance procedure, to ensure the security of children is maintained at all times. In the unlikely event of a child going missing, our missing child procedure is followed.

Procedures

Child going missing on the premises

- As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing, the child's key person alerts the ASK manager.
- The register is checked to make sure no other child has also gone astray.
- Our manager will carry out a thorough search of the building, courtyard and outside areas.
- Doors and gates are checked to see if there has been a breach of security whereby a child could wander out.
- If the child is not found, our manager calls the police immediately and reports the child as missing. If it is suspected that the child may have been abducted, the police are informed of this.
- The parent(s) are then called and informed.
- A recent photo and a note of what the child is wearing are given to the police.
- Our manager talks to our members of staff to find out when and where the child was last seen and records this.
- Our manager contacts our registered provider/owner and reports the incident. Our registered provider/owner comes to ASK immediately to carry out an investigation with our management team.

Child going missing on an outing

This describes what to do when members of our staff have taken a small group on an outing, leaving our manager and/or other staff back in the ASK premises. If our manager has accompanied children on the outing, the procedures are adjusted accordingly. Likewise the procedures are adjusted if a child goes missing from a whole group outing, as parents usually attend and are responsible for their own child.

- As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing, the staff members on the outing ask children to stand with their designated carer and carry out a headcount to ensure that no other child has gone astray.
- One staff member searches the immediate vicinity but does not search beyond that.
- Our senior staff member on the outing contacts the police and reports the child as missing.
- Our manager is contacted immediately (if not on the outing) and the incident is recorded.
- Our manager contacts the parent(s).
- Our members of staff take the remaining children back to ASK as soon as possible.
- According to the advice of the police, a senior member of staff, or our manager where applicable, should remain at the site where the child went missing and wait for the police to arrive.
- A recent photo and a description of what the child is wearing are given to the police.
- Our manager contacts our registered provider/owner and reports the incident. Our registered provider/owner comes to our premises immediately to carry out an investigation with our management team.
- Our staff members keep calm and do not let the other children become anxious or worried.

The investigation

- Ofsted are informed as soon as possible and kept up to date with the investigation.
- Our registered provider/owner carries out a full investigation, taking written statements from all our members of staff and volunteers who were present.
- Our manager, together with our registered provider/owner, speaks with the parent(s) and explains the process of the investigation.
- The parent(s) may also raise a complaint with us or with Ofsted.
- Each member of staff present writes an incident report detailing:
  - the date and time of the incident;
  - where the child went missing from e.g. ASK or an outing venue;
  - which members of staff/children were in the premises/on the outing and the name of the staff member who was designated as responsible for the missing child;
  - when the child was last seen in the premises or on the outing, including the time it is estimated that the child went missing;
  - what has taken place in the premises or on the outing since the child went missing; and

- the report is counter-signed by the senior member of staff and the date and time added.
- A conclusion is drawn as to how the breach of security happened.
- If the incident warrants a police investigation, all our staff co-operate fully. In this case, the police will handle all aspects of the investigation including interviewing staff and parents. Children's social care may be involved if it seems likely that there is a child protection issue to address.
- In the event of disciplinary action needing to be taken, Ofsted are advised.
- The insurance provider is informed.

Managing people

- Missing child incidents are very worrying for all concerned. Part of managing the incident is to try to keep everyone as calm as possible.
- Our members of staff will feel worried about the child, especially the key person or the designated carer responsible for the safety of that child for the outing. They may blame themselves and their feelings of anxiety and distress will rise as the length of time the child is missing increases.
- They may be the understandable target of parental anger and they may be afraid. Our manager ensures that any members of staff under investigation are not only fairly treated, but receive support while feeling vulnerable.
- The parents will feel angry, and fraught. They may want to blame our members of staff and may single out one staff member over others; they may direct their anger at our manager. When dealing with a distraught and angry parent, there should always be two members of staff, one of whom is our manager, and the other should be our registered provider/owner. No matter how understandable the parent's anger may be, aggression or threats against our members of staff are not tolerated, and the police should be called.
- The other children are also sensitive to what is going on around them. They too may be worried. Our remaining members of staff caring for them need to be focussed on their needs and must not discuss the incident in front of them. They should answer children's questions honestly, but also reassure them.
- In accordance with the severity of the final outcome, our members of staff may need counselling and support. If a child is not found, or is injured, or worse, this will be a very difficult time. Our registered provider/owner will use his discretion to decide what action to take.
- Our members of staff must not discuss any missing child incident with the press without taking advice.
